

During the recent decades, the debate about the appropriate role of religious ideas within democratic societies has been shaped by the differentiation between religious and secular convictions. Yet it turned out that the line between religious and secular argumentation patterns does not suffice to capture the conflict area. Against the complex background of global interconnectedness, the contingency of particular worldviews becomes evident. At the same time, it becomes clear that over and beyond the respective content of reasoning, the respective attitude plays a crucial role in determining the relation between divergent approaches to reality.

This perspective shifts the focus of attention from the distinction between secular and religious reasons, to the distinction between apodictic and discourse-oriented ways of reasoning. Which empirical observations suggest approaching religious symbolic worlds by means of ideology-critical categories? How do the perspectives of rationality theory and theory of ideology relate to each other? Which aspects of theological deliberation invite us to investigate them in terms of criticism of ideology? The conference gathers scholars from sociology of religion and social anthropology, political philosophy and theology to discuss these questions in an exchange between empirical and conceptual perspectives.

GOETHE UNIVERSITY FRANKFURT/MAIN CAMPUS WESTEND

Theodor-W.-Adorno-Platz 1
60323 Frankfurt/Main

Building Th/Fr: Casino
Building Sat: Seminarhaus
Underground: Holzhausenstraße

IDEOLOGICAL TURN IN THEOLOGY?

THE IMPACT OF GLOBALISATION ON THE TALK OF 'GOD'

09.-11. JUNE 2022

09 Cas 1.812 THURSDAY

16:00 - 16:30 Get Together

16:30 - 17:00 A. Langner-Pitschmann
Frankfurt/Germany
Introduction

"Ideology"

17:00 - 18:00 Cornelia Stefan
Klagenfurt/Austria
The most Popular Concepts of Ideology and their Diverging Purposes.

18:00 - 18:30 Coffee Break

18:30 - 19:30 Viktor Poletko
Lviv/Ukraine
Political Argument between Ideology and Rationality.

Dinner

10 Cas 1.811 FRIDAY

Empirical Perspectives

9:30 - 10:30 Raphael Susewind
London/England
Solace and Rage:
Religion in Urban India.

10:30 - 11:30 Kristina Stoeckl
Innsbruck/Austria
A Conservative Aggiornamento?
The Making of the Culture Wars in Europe and Russia

11:30 - 12:00 Coffee Break

12:00 - 13:00 Sarah Riccardi-Swartz
Tempe/Arizona
Between Heaven and Russia.
Religious Conversion and Political Apostasy in Appalachia.

13:00 - 14:00 Lunch

Philosophical Perspectives

14:00 - 15:00 Genia Schönbaumsfeld
Southampton/England
Wittgenstein on Scientism in Religion.

15:00 - 16:00 Isabella Guanzini
Linz/Austria
Ideology without Hegemony?
Gramsci and Lacan on Religion.

16:00 - 16:30 Coffee Break

16:30 - 17:30 Dominik Finkelde
Munich/Germany
Fantasy Fatigue.
In Need of a Ministry of Imagination and Transgression.

Dinner

11 SH 0.104/5 SATURDAY

"Theology"

9:30 - 10:30 Khrystyna Mykhaliuk
Lviv/Ukraine & Leuven/Belgium
Care for "The Way it Looks":
Theology, Civility and Ideology of Authenticity.

10:30 - 11:30 Ulrich Schmiedel
Edinburgh/Scotland
The Saying or Unsayng God?
The Role of Ideology Critique in Theological Responses to the European Far Right

11:30 - 12:00 Coffee Break

12:00 - 13:00 Davor Džalto
Stockholm/Sweden
A Plea for (Orthodox) Anarchism.

Final Discussion

Interested students and colleagues are very welcome to follow the conference. Participation is free of charge. Please register with us in advance:

Annette Langner-Pitschmann
Theology in Times of Globalisation
langner-pitschmann@em.uni-frankfurt.de